

STRUCTURAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY
NEW ZEALAND INCORPORATED

11 June 2009

Dear Member,

Management Committee – Call for Nominations

The Structural Engineering Society, SESOC, now represents over 1300 members and is the pre-eminent technical society for professional structural engineers throughout New Zealand. The Society collaborates with IPENZ, IStructE and other associated technical groups such as the Timber Design and Earthquake Engineering Societies.

The Regional Structural Groups in Auckland, Waikato/Bay of Plenty, Wellington and Christchurch are affiliated with SESOC and run meetings throughout the year, with a variety of speakers and site visits to local projects.

Other core activities of the Society are the publication of a well respected half-yearly journal and the running of practitioner focused seminars on structural engineering topics.

The management of the society has been well served by the current and previous management committees. Working on the management committee is a worthwhile and rewarding contribution to SESOC and to the structural engineering community. Usually four committee meetings a year are held; this is not onerous. Here is the opportunity to support your Society.

If you wish to stand for election, please complete the self nomination form below and return it before 4 PM on Tuesday 30 June 2009 to:
